A NEW WORLD OF POSSIBILITIES FOR THE HEALTHCARE MARKET

It is with pleasure and immense pride that I make this announcement: Labtest is now part of Virtue Diagnostics - a young company with enormous expertise in research and development, whose greatest mission is to accelerate innovation in clinical diagnosis for a healthier world. Just like us!

With headquarters in Singapore - where it has a modern Research and Development Laboratory - and manufacturing centers in China, Virtue has chosen Labtest in Brazil due to our extensive know-how in the diagnostics segment, our culture and, last but not least, our talents. The Labtest Culture remains; the leadership of the company, as well. We maintain our purpose of providing healthcare solutions for the benefit of life, but now even stronger.

What changes, with Virtue's technological and financial potential, are the various possibilities for growth and expansion: the increase in production capacity with the construction of a new factory, the possibility of reaching new markets inside and outside the country, the broadening of the product portfolio and the generation of new jobs.

Challenges exist. But with a team committed to building a new, greater and more innovative Labtest, we have no doubt that everything is possible.

THANK YOU FOR BEING AND STAYING
WITH US.
